BONNIES STORYLINES

- BONNIES BACK HOME AFTER TRIP WEST: St. Bonaventure returns home to the Reilly Center on Thursday night following a pair of games in Colorado last weekend for the Denver Thanksgiving Classic. St. Bonaventure dropped contests to undefeated Ohio, 70-53, and host Denver, 76-62, in two games against a pair of teams that are a combined 10-1. Though the Bonnies came home without a victory, the Brown and White held Ohio 24 points below its season average and was within single digits vs. Denver with just over three minutes to play before the host Pioneers pulled away in the final moments.
- SOUTHERN TIER CHILD ADVOCACY CENTER NIGHT: The St. Bonaventure women's basketball team will support the Southern Tier Child Advocacy Center (STCAC) this Thursday night, asking fans to donate new blankets and stuffed animals to those in need. The Bonnies are asking fans who attend Thursday night's women's basketball game vs. Bucknell to bring a new blanket or stuffed animal. Those donations will go toward the STCAC to help area children in need of aid during the holiday season. All fans who make a donation will receive a free ticket to the game which is scheduled for a 7 p.m. tip off.
- JOHNSON LANDS ON DENVER CLASSIC ALL-TOURNEY TEAM: Freshman Asianae Johnson averaged 10.5 points and 2.5 rebounds per game in two games against Ohio and Denver at the Denver Thanksgiving Classic. Her performance earned her a spot on the Thanksgiving Classic All-Tournament Team. The Brooklyn, N.Y. native scored 13 points against Denver on Saturday and added seven points against Ohio on Friday. Prior to the Denver Thanksgiving Classic, Johnson was tabbed as the Atlantic 10 Rookie of the Week on Nov. 19 after averaging 14.5 points, 4.0 rebounds and 1.0 assist per game in the previous two games.

- LINEUP CHANGES: A pair of junior college transfers earned their first career Bonnies starts this past weekend as both Claudia Del Moral and Amanda Oliver joined the starting lineup. Del Moral took over the starting point guard duties beginning last Friday vs. Ohio and has the best assist-to-turnover ratio in the backcourt (16 A, 9 TO). Saturday vs. Denver, Oliver was in the starting lineup for the first time thanks in part to 6.5 rebounds per game which ranks second on the team. Two quick fouls and then an injury that she later returned from actually limited Oliver to a season-low 14 minutes and broke a string of five straight games with six or more rebounds, however.

- DOUBLE-DOUBLE: Junior Danielle Migliore has taken over a leading role in the Bonnies lineup following an injury to senior McKenna Maycock. Saturday at Denver, Migliore delivered her third career double-double by finishing with 13 points and 10 rebounds.

WE ARE ST. BONAVENTURE

The appropriate reference for our institution is St. Bonaventure University - the term "St. Bonnies" is an unacceptable University reference.

- EMILY ON THE BOARDS: Sophomore Emily Calabrese leads the Bonnies in rebounding this season with 7.3 rebounds per game on average. That's a total that ranks fifth among all Atlantic 10 players entering the week. At the start of the season, the New Jersey native scored her first career double-double in the win last Nov. 13 vs. Canisius, then reached 10 rebounds for the second consecutive game Nov. 17 vs. Hofstra. Last year, she reached double digit boards just once - 11 in an overtime contest at VCU.
- DROPPIN' DIMES: Redshirt junior Dajah Logan scored 11 points off the bench Saturday vs. Denver, her third game this season in double-figure scoring. The previous day vs. Ohio, though, she set her career high in assists by facilitating those around her. Against the Bobcats, she dished out six assists, her highest total in now her third collegiate season.
- JOHNSON A TOP FROSH: Freshman Asianae Johnson has made a splash thus far in her collegiate debut. Already an Atlantic 10 Rookie of the Week selection (Nov. 19), she enters the week as the second-highest scoring freshman in the A-10 this season at 11.8 points per game. Only Saint Louis' Cjaja Harbison (12.3 ppg) ranks higher among A-10 freshmen entering the week.
- JORNLIN'S ROLE GROWS: Freshman Carrie Jornlin saw increased minutes during the Bonnies' trip to Denver. For the first time in her young career, she picked up double-digit minutes in back-to-back games including a career-high 18 minutes vs. Ohio. All three of the Bonnies' freshmen saw big minutes this past weekend - fellow frosh Asianae Johnson and Deja Francis are averaging 29 and 24 minutes respectively.
- WORKING OVERTIME: The Bonnies scored a 100-94 win over rival Canisius in an all-time classic Nov. 13 after going to triple overtime. It was Bona's first triple-OT game as a Division I program and first at all since defeating Gannon in the 1980-81 season. It is the only D-I game to go to triple-OT so far this season.

2018-19 TEAM INFO

Starters Returning/Lost: 2/3

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 4/4

- Senior Mckenna Maycock ranked second in the Atlantic 10 last season in three-point shooting, connecting on 47.6 percent of her attempts (39-for-82). She was also 15th in 3-pointers per game (1.9). That was a huge leap considering she had hit just nine total 3-pointers during her first two seasons combined (9-for-35).
- Maycock also ranked eighth in the A-10 in overall field goal percentage (47.1 percent), and 15th in A-10 rebounding (6.2 rpg) and was the team's best free throw shooter at 83 percent (25-for-30).
- Despite fighting injury for the final 11 games she played, she still scored in double figures in 14 of 21 total games including four 20-point games - all of which came before a December injury.
- Junior Danielle Migliore was one of the Atlantic 10's most improved players last season - her +8.6 ppg margin over her freshman season was the second-largest increase in scoring production by any A-10 player. She shot just 17.9 percent from the floor as a freshman, but increased that to 38.9 percent last year and her 66 total 3-pointers ranked ninth in the Atlantic 10.
- Sophomore Emily Calabrese was the only player to start every game last season and the first Bona freshman to be in the starting five for every one of her first season games during the past decade.
- The Bonnies will look to bounce back from their first back-to-back losing seasons since 2004-05 and 2005-06.
- Bona has been besieged by injuries the past two years and has not played a game with every member of its roster available since its NCAA Tournament Second Round game at Oregon State on March 20, 2016. Last season, injuries forced the Bonnies to play with just six available players in six games during A-10 play.
- St. Bonaventure head coach Jesse Fleming enters his third season at the helm. Fleming was an assistant on the Bonaventure bench from 2005-2011 and was part of 110 victories during his time as a Bonnies assistant including three runs to the WNIT.

BONA VS. BUCKNELL - SERIES HISTORY

- St. Bonaventure has faced Bucknell 11 times in the sport of women's basketball and this marks the third straight season the two teams have met in non-conference play.
- The Bonnies have owned the short series, taking eight of the 11 meetings including last season's matchup in Lewisburg, Pa.
- St. Bonaventure has won five of the seven meetings at the Reilly Center, but Bucknell won the last game at The RC, 57-35, on Dec. 6, 2016.
- Last season, the Bonnies scored a big road win at the Sojka Pavilion, 59-48, a place where Bucknell had 29 of its last 30 games prior to the Bona victory there. McKenna Maycock paced the Brown and White with 21 points and eight rebounds while Danielle Migliore added 11 points. Emily Calabrese hauled in six rebounds.

ABOUT BUCKNELL

- The Bison were selected as the Patriot League preseason favorites for the third straight season and return four starters including three All-Patriot selections off a team that went 22-10 including 15-3 in conference, reaching the WNIT last season.
- Senior Kaitlyn Slagus, a 1,000-point scorer who also has 1,000 rebounds, was named Preseason All-Patriot for the second year in a row and leads the team at 14.1 ppg this season. Fellow senior Kate Walker was also a first team preseason pick and checks in at 8.3 ppg thus far.

- WELCOME BACK: Fans at Bonnies games this season will likely need to make good use of the program – at least early in the campaign. Five players return to the active roster this year after seeing time a year ago – but of those returners, only senior Mckenna Maycock (76 career games), junior Danielle Migliore (50 career games) and sophomore Emily Calabrese (started all 30 games last year) have seen extensive playing time. Also returning are redshirt junior Bree Paulson and sophomore Abigail Johnson who were each limited to eight games apiece last year due to injury. Redshirt junior Dajah Logan, a transfer from the College of Charleston, was with the program a year ago but will be seeing her first on-court action in Brown and White due to NCAA transfer rules.

- JUCO DUO JOINS THE BONNIES: While the Bonnies don't return a wealth of players with experience in the program, two of the new faces bring two years of college experience with them. Amanda Oliver, a native of Orlando, Fla., spent the past two seasons at Florida Southwestern where she was a two-time all-conference selection and started 57 of 63 career games while averaging 6.7 points and a team-best 8.4 rebounds. She helped Florida Southwestern to a Top 20 national ranking and 26-6 record last year and was also an All-Academic Team pick in her conference. Claudia Del Moral figures to see a lot of minutes at the point guard position after playing a season each at Jacksonville (TX) CC and Lamar (Co.) CC, averaging 10.2 points and 4.1 assists at Lamar to earn All-Region honors. While at Jacksonville, she also helped her team to a Top 25 national ranking. One of two international players on the Bona roster, the native of Barcelona, Spain joins teammate Abigail Johnson, who hails from London, England, as Bonnies to join the program from across the pond.
- CITY CONNECTION: Two of Bona's newcomers in the backcourt hail from the New York City area - freshmen Asiana Johnson (Brooklyn) and Deja Francis (Queens). They continue a long tradition the program has had with recruiting guards from the Big Apple. Both are combo guards. During some of the team's best seasons, NYC guards have played a big role. Francis comes to the Bonnies from the storied Murry Bergtraum program which also produced Armelia Horton who played for Bona from 2008-12 and was a key component to the Bonnies' 2012 Sweet 16 team. Priscilla Edwards '09, a Harlem product, was also one of the best Bona guards in recent history. Johnson, meanwhile, played her high school ball at Brooklyn's Grand St. Campus. "We have a tradition of tough New York City area guards propelling us to success," Bona head coach Jesse Fleming said. "We think Deja and Asiana have a chance to continue that legacy."

- LOGAN POISED TO MAKE A SPLASH: While not officially considered a "returner" on this year's roster, redshirt junior Dajah Logan will bring a year of experience with the program despite never playing a minute of official action in Brown and White prior to this season. Logan transferred to the Bonnies in July 2017 after playing two seasons with the College of Charleston. The 5-11 wing started 27 of 30 games during her sophomore season with the Cougars, averaging 7.5 points and 3.9 rebounds in nearly 23 minutes per game. A 1,200-point scorer at McDonogh High in Randallstown, Md., she played 61 games at College of Charleston before making the decision to transfer. She spent the entire 2017-18 with the Bonnies, sitting out of games due to NCAA transfer rules.
- BREE'S BACK: One of the players Bona head coach Jesse Fleming was excited about heading into the 2017-18 season was Western Nebraska CC transfer Bree Paulson, a 6-0 sharpshooter who added a skillset the Bonnies sorely lacked in the previous season. Paulson was showing some of those skills early in the season, shooting nearly 37 percent from long range while starting the first eight games of the year. She was lost for the season, however, following a shoulder injury vs. Delaware on Nov. 29, but with eight games played she was just at the maximum for receiving an injury redshirt from the NCAA. With still two seasons of eligibility remaining, the Colorado native enters this season healthy and figuring to earn solid minutes in her return to the court.
- MAYCOCK, MIGLIORE NAMED TO PRESEASON ALL-BIG 4 TEAMS: Senior Mckenna Maycock and junior Danielle Migliore were members of the preseason All-Big 4 teams announced Nov. 2. Maycock earned a spot on the first team while Migliore was named to the second team, as voted upon by members of the Western New York Media. The Big 4 teams are comprised of players from St. Bonaventure, Buffalo, Canisius and Niagara.

ROSTER BREAKDOWN

- The Bonnies boast players from six different states and three nations on the 2018-19 roster:
- New York - 4 (Francis, Johnson, Maycock, Migliore)
- Maryland - 2 (Jornlin, Logan)
- Colorado - 1 (Paulson)
- Georgia - 1 (Harvey)
- Florida - 1 (Oliver)
- New Jersey - 1 (Calabrese)
- England - 1 (Johnson)
- Spain - 1 (Del Moral)

ATLANTIC 10 FORMAT

- The Atlantic 10 Conference consists of 14 member schools.
- A-10 squads face each member once and three schools battle each other twice as part of a 16-game conference schedule.
- St. Bonaventure's home-and-home opponents are Duquesne, George Mason and Rhode Island.
- The Atlantic 10 Women's Basketball Championship adopted a new format two seasons ago. The top two league finishers earn byes to the quarterfinal round while seeds three through eight will each host one of six first round games on campus sites March 5. The quarterfinals, semifinals and championship will all be held at the Palumbo Center on campus at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh March 8-10.

- GRAB A PROGRAM: Fans of the St. Bonaventure women's basketball team will need to grab a program at games this season to learn all the new numbers and names. In all, six players will suit up in games for the first time in Brown and White this season - Asiana Johnson (freshman), Deja Francis (freshman), Carrie Jornlin (freshman), Amanda Oliver (junior transfer), Claudia Del Moral (junior transfer) and Dajah Logan (junior transfer). That's the most new players in a season for the Bonnies since the 2012-13 season when Bona also boasted six new players, all freshmen.

- YOUTH ON THE SIDELINES: St. Bonaventure, which has had a top-10 youngest coaching staff in the nation each of the past two years, got even younger with the addition of Ryan Phillips to the staff this season. Phillips is one of two 26-year-olds on the staff along with second-year assistant Maggie Latimer. Director of Operations Alysha Giarra is 30, assistant coach Jenny Pruett is 32 and head coach Jesse Fleming is just 35, giving the Bonnies an average coaching staff age of 29.8. Among all Division I programs, only Colgate has a younger average coaching staff age (29.0).

- MAYCOCK THE SENIOR: The lone senior on the active roster is hometown product Mckenna Maycock who has become one of the stars of the conference after showing dramatic improvement in each of her seasons with the program. She was clearly the breakout star story in the Atlantic 10 through the first month and a half of last year, averaging 13.6 points and 8.4 rebounds in the opening 10 games of the year before suffering a knee injury that cost her several games and left her less than 100 percent and sporting a brace for the rest of the season. She posted a career high 23 points in a December win over Penn State in the game before suffering her injury vs. Buffalo and had become the first Bonnies player to score at least 20 points in the program's first 10 games of a season since 2008, joining the company of Dana Mitchell - the only player to have her number retired in program history. Also a standout in the classroom, she's a back-to-back selection to both the Atlantic 10 and CoSIDA Academic All-District Team, sporting a 3.98 GPA while graduating a year early in Accounting. She is currently taking courses toward her MBA.

STANDOUT NUMBERS

3 – St. Bonaventure returns only three players on the active roster who played in more than eight games in 2017-18 - senior Mckenna Maycock, junior Danielle Migliore and sophomore Emily Calabrese.

4 – The Bonnies will play four RPI Top 100 teams from a season ago in their non-conference schedule (Buffalo, 22; Georgia, 26; Bucknell, 91; Penn State, 93) and a fifth - Ohio was 117.

6 – Since 2008-09, the Bonnies have reached the postseason six times. In each of those seasons, St. Bonaventure has recorded at least one postseason victory (WNIT, NCAA Tournament).

8 – Eight players on St. Bonaventure's top 25 all-time scoring list have played for coaching staffs including current head coach Jesse Fleming.

47.6% – Mckenna Maycock led the entire Atlantic 10 last season in field goal percentage from beyond the arc, sinking 47.6 percent of her 3-point attempts.

66 – Danielle Migliore poured in 66 3-pointers during her sophomore season of 2017-18, ranking ninth in the Atlantic 10.

74.3% – St. Bonaventure shot 74.3 percent at the foul line in 2017-18, a total that ranked fourth in the Atlantic 10. Getting to the line was a problem, however - the Bonnies registered just 444 free throw attempts for the season, a total that was second-lowest in the A-10 behind only Rhode Island (440).
